SUBJECT: Policy Letter #4, The Right of Soldiers, Civilians, and Family Members to Present Complaints to or Request Assistance from the Inspector General

1. All Soldiers, Civilians, and Family Members have the right to present complaints, grievances, or requests for assistance to the Inspector General. These complaints or grievances may include what those persons reasonably believe to be evidence of fraud, waste, and abuse.
2. Before visiting the Inspector General, you should consider whether your immediate supervisor or your chain of command can address your concerns more promptly; however, you are not required to present your concerns to your supervisor or chain of command before contacting the Inspector General. Remember to obtain permission to be absent from your duties if you wish to visit the Inspector General during duty hours. You are not required to tell anyone why you want to speak to an Inspector General.
3. Civilian personnel laws and regulations prescribe procedures for civilian employees to use in submitting complaints related to employment. If you are a bargaining-unit employee, your complaint may be covered by a negotiated grievance procedure. Your servicing Civilian Personnel Advisory Center (CPAC) can provide you with further information. If you want to submit a complaint about employment discrimination due to race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, or disability, contact the Equal Employment Opportunity Program Office on Kleber Kaserne, Bldg 3213, Rooms 129/103. Appropriated fund employees' complaints regarding whistleblower reprisal or prohibited personnel practices may also be addressed to the Office of Special Counsel; non-appropriated fund (NAF) employees should address such complaints to the Office of the Inspector General, Department of Defense.
